*U.S. NEWS – BEST
LAWYERS* HAS NAMED
NIXON PEABODY
“LAW FIRM OF THE
YEAR” IN HEALTH
CARE LAW IN 2016.

Health care is among the fastest growing industries in the U.S., and new technologies and advancements in treatments create new opportunities every day. But growth does not come without challenges. Economic stresses, increased scrutiny, and government regulation have increased the risks facing health care providers. Failure to navigate the risks properly could result in disruptive disputes and litigation.

Nixon Peabody's Health Care Litigation team understands the challenges faced by businesses in the regulated health care industry. More important, we know how to get our clients back to business. Our practice has a record of success in “must-win” cases and a thorough understanding of the evolving economic, regulatory, and legal challenges facing the industry today. Our efficiency, knowledge of the industry, and litigation experience including trials, administrative proceedings, and appeals are particularly valuable to clients who need to secure appropriate and cost-efficient litigation results.

Our clients reflect a broad spectrum of institutions, associations, organizations, companies, and individual practitioners. Among them are:
