Chicago, IL & New York, NY. Nixon Peabody LLP is proud to be selected for consecutive years by both Crain’s Chicago Business and Crain’s New York Business among the “Best Places to Work.”

Together, these recognitions of Nixon Peabody's Chicago and New York City offices underscore the firm’s continued focus on creating a workplace where people can grow their careers, build meaningful relationships, and contribute to a culture of shared success. Across the firm, Nixon Peabody fosters a collaborative culture defined by accessible and transparent leadership, meaningful career development pathways, holistic well-being, and recognition of the contributions of attorneys and professional staff alike. By investing in its people and understanding that well-being is closely linked to optimal performance, the firm continues to strengthen its ability to deliver exceptional client service.

“We know that our ability to create positive impact for clients is rooted in the exceptional workplace we cultivate for our people,” said David R. Brown, managing partner of Nixon Peabody’s Chicago office. “We are honored to be recognized for a third consecutive year by Crain’s as one of the best places to work in Chicago.”

Crain’s “Best Places to Work” recognizes employers that distinguish themselves through fostering strong workplace cultures that attract and retain talent. Crain’s, in partnership with Workforce Research Group, selects honorees based on a combination of employer-submitted information and employee feedback.

“Serving our clients, supporting one another, and strengthening the communities we serve remain central to who we are,” said Richard Langan, managing partner of Nixon Peabody’s New York City office. “This recognition of our New York City office reflects the collaborative, purpose-driven culture our team continues to build every day, and we're proud to see that commitment once again acknowledged."
